Starting March 22, 2006 we will be offering a new class!

“What the Guys Never Tell Us - Part 2” (Basic Carpentry). This class is a follow up to our popular basic power tool class “What the Guys Never Tell Us - Part 1”!

In this class you will learn some basic carpentry skills while building a small tool box that you will take with you at the end of class.

The class will cover basic safety along with a review of how to use your power tools. We will cover marking, measuring and assembly techniques and then you will be let loose to build your toolbox following some simple plans.

So take this opportunity to apply those newly acquired power tool skills and join us in class. Click here to see our current schedule!

Starting March 1, 2006 we are offering another new class, “Construction 101”. This class was created in partnership with Habitat for Humanity of Metro Denver - Women Build.

If you've always wanted to volunteer with Habitat but are still unsure, this class will introduce you to the basic tools, materials and terminology you will encounter on a Habitat construction site. Judy Browne, your instructor, has spent over 3 years (1 year full-time) volunteering with Habitat and will be able to answer any questions or concerns you may have. So stop saying “One of these days I'd like to do that” and DO IT!

If you are registered to volunteer with Habitat you will receive a 20% discount on your class fee. In addition $ 5.00 of every class fee will be donated directly to the Women Build program at Habitat for Humanity of Metro Denver.
