Interesting Home Improvement Stuff

Below is a list of some interesting local home improvement and do-it-yourself companies I encountered a few weeks ago at the Home Decorating and Remodeling Show. (www.denverhomeshow.com)

The Belt

Bucket, www.thebeltbucket.com

This is a very cool product invented by Larry Masters, a professional painting contractor and artist. The product is manufactured here in Denver. It's essentially a paint bucket on a belt that leaves your hands free to climb a ladder, safely work from scaffolding or on a roof. I have 2 of them. It's sure nice to have my hands free while climbing up and down a ladder or to worry about spilling.

Lighting Liquidators,

www.lightingliquidators.biz

This is the perfect place to find the perfect lighting solution at a fraction of the cost. This local store offers chandeliers, lamps, exterior lighting, accessories and more.

Super Ceilings,

www.superceilings.com

This is another local company that makes and sells Styrofoam ceiling tiles and crown molding. Before you make a judgment you should see a sample of this stuff. It comes in a huge variety of looks from faux wood to intricate patterns. You can order them painted, unpainted or with a faux finish. They're simple to install and can be used to cover those ugly popcorn ceilings.

Summit Decorative Concrete

www.summitdecorativeconcrete.com

Michael Weinberg from Golden is the president of Summit Decorative Concrete and he was very friendly and informative when I stopped by to chat. Summit offers some wonderful alternatives to sprucing up and repairing your concrete patio, driveway, sidewalks and more.

Gratitude

In this month of Thanksgiving I want to take the opportunity to say thank you to all the amazing women I have met over the last year. Each class gives me an opportunity to realize that I am doing exactly what I am meant to do. Believe it or not each of you has a special place in my heart. Judy
